Dilapidated U.B. Mansion to Become Showhouse

researched by Dianne Donadio
written by Randy Wanser

"Ingleside," once the home of a P.T. Barnum nephew, and currently the idle, unused, property of the University of Bridgeport, has a bright future.

The three story mansion, over 90 years old, and acquired by U.B. in the 1950s, has been selected by The Junior League of Eastern Fairfield County, for the group's Spring, 1986 Decorators' Showhouse. Combined efforts of the University and JLEFC will afford the renovation and refurbishing of the historic Bridgeport house in Seaside Park, behind the Waldemere lawn.

The renovation is to become the fourth JLEFC sponsored Showhouse, following the highly successful Showhouses held in 1977, 1980, and 1983.

According to a letter from JLEFC Chairman Patti Spaght, "Enthusiasm for the 1986 Showhouse is great. Our entire League has been working hard to make this event even more successful than our previous Showhouses."

The group chose Ingleside because they "feel this house offers... exciting opportunities to make creative decorating statements."

Included in Spaght's letter was a brief history of Ingleside which reads as follows:

G.W. Longstaff, an English-American and a prominent Bridgeport builder and architect, built the house in 1890 as his residence. His firm, Longstaff and Hurd, was one of the strongest and most enterprising manufacturing and building concerns in the city. Longstaff's company concentrated on the manufacture of exterior and interior house woodwork of every kind and specialized in hardwood cabinets, stairs, mantels, and furniture. His office and factory were located on the corner of Railroad Avenue and Iranistan Avenue where they employed over one hundred people.

In 1894, just four years after the house was completed, Longstaff and Hurd declared bankruptcy, and Ingleside was sold to Clinton Barnum Seeley (nephew and chief heir to P.T. Barnum). The house belonged to Seeley until some time in the 1950's.

After the renovation and consequent public showing of the house (see schedule), Ingleside will remain University property, and, according to Associate Dean of Campus Life, Paul DeGennaro, will possibly furnish new quarters for the Placement Center Office. This is not surprising, as office space in our paper-pushing establishment, up to the rafters in records, becomes increasingly scarce.

Interestingly, the Decorators' Showhouse hits the area at an opportune time. The City of Bridgeport will be at TDC (that's motorhead talk for "Top Dead Center," or "full swing") of its yearlong, 150th birthday celebration, and Student Clean-up Week, devoted to enhancing the campus grounds, is one week prior to the Showhouse. Other spirited activity in the community includes, 1. the Theatre department's performance incorporating Bridgeport's heritage, and 2. the possibility of christening a new ferry ride from Seaside Park to Captain's Cove, a restored fishing port with shops and outdoor festivals. More information on the aforementioned activities may be gotten through dorm government or Student Council.

The University will not be the only beneficiary of the Showhouse at Ingleside. The proceeds from the admission fees will go into the Community Trust Fund of the JLEFC to be returned to the community, according to Spaght, for such projects as the Me-Ology Program sponsored by the group's Substance Abuse Project, continuing development of programs for the Beardsley Zoo, the School Volunteers of Bridgeport program to implement career planning at the Middle School level, and many other programs.

The 1986 Showhouse will be open to the public during the following days and hours:

Sunday, May 4 through Sunday, May 25

Hours: Monday through Wednesday - 10:00 a.m. - 4:00 p.m.

Thursday - 10:00 a.m. - 7:00 p.m.

Friday and Saturday - 10:00 a.m. - 4:00 p.m.

Sunday - 1:00 p.m. - 4:30 p.m.

Ticket Prices: General Public at the Door . . . . . $7.00

Advance Sales . . . . . $6.00

Groups, Students, Senior Citizens . . . . . $5.00

There will be a Bare Beginnings Party for patrons on Friday, February 28, and a Fully Furnished Preview Party for patrons on Saturday, May 3. A Decorators and Press Party will be held Friday, May 2.

The Showhouse will be open for photographers, by invitation or prior arrangement, Thursday and Friday, May 1 and 2.

ATTENDED PARKING LOT: THE SAFEST PLACE IN BRIDGEPORT?

In an effort to provide safe nighttime on-campus parking for student vehicles, an attended parking lot was started last semester (Fall 1985). The parking lot, located behind Schine Hall, was supervised by staff from the Department of Public Safety between the hours of 6 p.m. and 8 a.m.. Unfortunately, it was not very successful. An average of only twenty cars per night used the lot last semester.

In November of 1985 Vice President Henry Heneghan had an informal meeting with the residents of Schine Hall. During the course of the conversation students expressed their concerns about the safety of their vehicles on campus. Vice President Heneghan reminded them of the attended parking lot, which was in an ideal location for them as Schine residents, and that it was underused. Students expressed to him their fear of walking around the building from the parking lot to the front door during evening hours. It was from this meeting that new ideas for the attended parking lot were generated.

Though the parking lot is the same (rear of Schine Hall), there have been modifications made to the original plan. The planning and implementation of the project is now a joint effort between three departments in an attempt to respond to student concerns. The departments involved are Building and Grounds, which will make the necessary physical modifications to the building and lot, Public Safety, which will provide the personnel to man the lot, and Residence Life, which will promote awareness of the availability of the lot and actively encourage use of it by all campus residents.

The major change in the plan is an added plus for the Schine Hall residents. The back door of Schine will now be open during the hours that the lot is attended (6 p.m. to 8 a.m. Sunday thru Thursday) for drivers of vehicles who park in the lot and are also Schine residents. The officer who will be supervising the lot will be located either in the office near the rear door of the building or in the lot itself. He/she will have a key to the back door and access to the alarm for the door (another physical change to the building to be made by Buildings and Grounds). The door will be alarmed during the day when the parking lot is not being supervised. For Schine residents, who have parked their vehicles in the lot and wish to gain access to their building through the rear door during the hours of 6 p.m. and 8 a.m. will be required to provide the officer supervising the lot with a valid U.B. I.D. which will be checked with the list of all Schine residents (provided by the Office of Residence Halls).

Adita Arias, Hall Director of Schine Hall, is pleased with the changes made in the original plan. "They (the administration) heard the students and responded. The success of the lot is also dependent upon the students. If they don't use it why should the administration continue to incur the expense of running the lot." Miss Arias is however optimistic about the use of the facility. "The more people who know about it the more it will be used," she said.

The department of Public Safety will continue to monitor the number of vehicles in the lot thus recording how well utilized the lot actually is. Upon completion of all the changes made in the original plan for the attended parking lot, success of the facility rests upon the students, whether or not they are Schine residents, and their willingness to use the lot.

PEACE THROUGH HIGHER ED

by Ike, Bob & Mathews

"Peace through Higher Education" will be the theme for the 10th annual International Festival. It will be held in the Social Room on February 15, 1986, starting at 7 p.m. It has always been the tradition of the International Relations Club to organize the festival where all the UB students along with their international friends have an opportunity to come together at one place. This will be a night that one would remember because one will be able to share one's own cultural heritage with others and get an exposure to different kinds of food and entertainment that will be provided by their fellow students. This will be like going around the world in a night instead of 80 days.

This year's theme "Peace through higher education" was chosen with co-relation to the United Nation's "International Year of Peace," which was initiated by the International Association of University Presidents. The week of February 9-15 has also been designated by the University of Bridgeport as "International Week." During this year's Festival the IRC will be giving away prizes for best costume, best food and best entertainment.

The food category will be judged by food critics of the Bridgeport Post and the winning recipe will be published in the newspaper. There is a possibility that we will be having coverage by WTNH channel-8 New Haven. Without your participation this festival wouldn't be a success, so let's get together and make it a night to be remembered.

For further information concerning tickets and participation, please contact the International Office at 85 Park Ave., tel.: 576-4395.

no later than Feb. 15. Please be sure that all forms are completely and accurately filled out.

If your application has already been handed in and you have changed your mind about attending the ceremonies, please contact the Office of Special Events at ext. 4528.

Knight Watch Openings

The Department of Public Safety is accepting applications for positions in the Knight Watch program. Knight Watch is a student patrol division of the Public Safety Department. Participants will be given instruction in basic patrol procedure prior to assuming their patrol function.

Applicants must be able to work between the hours of 3:30 p.m. and midnight. Applications are available at the Department of Public Safety's information desk.

Tootsie Takes Over

Do you have a problem with your boyfriend/girlfriend? Is he/she always straying and you have no one to turn to because it is your roommate to whom he/she is straying to? Are your parents nagging you?

Well, pay attention loveloms and nagged students, for good news is before your eyes. This is the official announcement of the arrival of "Tootsie" to the U.B. Scribe. Tootsie, a sweet old woman who has seen it all, is gladly offering her advice to those of you with a problem. So, if you want some well thought out advice, send your letters to: Dear Tootsie c/o The Scribe, Campus mailbox behind Campus Information. They will promptly be answered in "Tootsie's" new column.

BASEBALL/ SOFTBALL TRYOUTS

Baseball practice begins Monday, Jan. 27 between 2-4 p.m. Sneakers and a baseball glove should be worn. Candidates must get a physical at the Health Center. Physical cards may be returned to the Equipment Room in the gymnasium or to coach Bacon.

Anyone interested in trying out for the women's softball team should contact coach Leibrock at the Harvey Hubbell Gymnasium, x4736, Office 102A. Tryouts begin Feb. 3 at the Wheeler Recreation Center and will continue through the week. Candidates must take a physical at the Health Center.

LETTERS TO EDITOR

Letter to the Editor and to all Members of the UB Yacht Club:

As you already know, Libyan sponsored terrorist attacks and threats have sent the U.S. Navy's Sixth Fleet into the Mediterranean Sea. Khadafi's threats to make the U.S. the target of terrorism has sparked debate over U.B. Security from such attacks. The U.B. Yacht Club command has put all members on high priority alert, and all members are hereby notified to be ready to mobilize at any time in the near future. As to the date, time, and location of mobilization, you will be contacted through the usual channels.

and All Others Concerned:

I hope you will reconsider your decision: Please let your "Heroes" comic strip appear in The Scribe.

In reference to your letter to the editor, I don't agree with you: Justice is not served! Quite the opposite may be true. Perhaps Captain Justice's being kept out of The Scribe is a victory to those people who consider you too "radical" for The Scribe. (For those that are new to U.B., Captain Justice is a character in the comic strip, "Heroes.")

Commuter Senate President Resigns

by Bruce J. Pfeffer

Keith Mayer, the Commuter Senate president for 1½ years, resigned this week to pursue an internship at Ernst & Whinney, a Big Eight Accounting Firm. Mayer is a Junior Accounting major and will continue to be a full time student at U.B. Dr. Demotses, Mayer's academic advisor, informed him of the position Keith was interviewed for.

About two years ago, Mayer, then with little experience but plenty of potential, was given the opportunity to lead the Commuter Senate. During the past few years, in addition to involvement with the Commuter Senate, Mayer has been active in the Knights of the Round Table (he was KORT coordinator of last summer's new student orientation), is a member of the Dana Scholars, and has been busy with Student Council.

This semester, the Commuter Senate will be led by Mike Rizzo as president, and Lynn Mayer (Keith's sister) as treasurer. Both Rizzo and Lynn Mayer are in a similar situation as Keith was when he started. The new administration will continue with some of Mayer's ideas, as well as work on some of its own.

One of Mayer's goals, which the new Senate hopes to realize, is a Commuter Senate bulletin board which will be set up outside the Student Center's cafeteria. This bulletin board will include a large monthly calendar of events, information from clubs and organizations on campus, and information from University offices such as Student Life.

One project to be taken on by the new president is the parking problem. An area of particular concern is the parking lot between the Technology building and Dana Hall. On a weekday between the hours of 11 a.m. and 2 p.m. the crowded conditions of cars parking in illegal spots, combined with narrow driveways, creates a potential fire hazard. Rizzo, a volunteer fireman, mentioned that a fire truck will have major difficulty pulling into the Tech lot should there be the necessity.

Keith Mayer also mentioned that the Commuter Senate is presently seeking members to join various committees. Mayer remains optimistic, both about his internship, and about the Commuter Senate.

Keith Mayer, resigning Commuter Senate President.

NEW DIRECTOR FOR WHEELER REC

by Randy Wanser

Personnel changes, due to the resigning of former Wheeler Recreation Center Director, Andy Krochko, have landed Karen Delucca, previously Krochko's Assistant Director, in the Director's chair of the University's Rec Center.

Delucca joined the WRC staff in September 1985, and worked under Krochko until November of the same year, when Krochko left. Since that time, Delucca has graduated from Acting Director to her present status of official Director.

The hardest part, Delucca confided, was doing both jobs, Assistant and Director, for the two month period from November to January. "Everyone's knocking on your door," Delucca said in an interview.

The lack of personnel is an immediate problem facing many departments of the University. The shortage of bodies often places much work in the hands of few workers. With all her responsibilities, Delucca said it was "virtually impossible to get any programming done."

Delucca's staff for the interim period consisted of one membership clerk, Sandy Batsu, and two senior clerks, John Visconti, and Hamid Malakpour. Much of their time has been devoted to processing student ID cards, a responsibility Delucca said is "something [university administrators] have plopped on the Rec Center."

To strengthen the services of the center, Rich Bova, last year's intramural coordinator, has made a switch from Assistant Director of Student Activities, and Knight Club Pub Manager, to acting Assistant Director of WRC. The addition of Bova to the staff will hopefully enable Delucca to institute her programming.

Health and fitness are top priorities for Delucca. Already, the weight rooms have been expanded and equipment has been added. Her goals are to carpet the rooms, and offer "individualized attention" to patrons, and to offer more emphasis on a women's workout schedule.

Delucca qualified for the position with a master's degree in recreational administration, at Southern, State University in Connecticut. Her undergraduate studies in education were done at the University of Bridgeport.

Delucca said that her public relations work at Bridgeport Jai-Alai was a big factor in her hiring here. "They knew it could help me promote the Rec. Center," Delucca said.

Delucca is stressing involvement, and urges people, especially full time undergrads who receive automatic membership, to utilize the facilities, and to participate in upcoming programming.

AIDS AWARENESS

by Bruce J. Pfeffer

AIDS — The Acquired Immune Deficiency Syndrome — has caused a great deal of concern and fear during the past several months. The fear created by rumors is unfounded. In fact the hysteria is perhaps as great a problem as the disease itself. Information provided concerning the test and how the disease is transmitted will help alleviate the unnecessary fears.

There are only a few ways that the AIDS virus can be transmitted. An intravenous drug user with the virus, transmits the disease by sharing dirty, infected needles with others. The virus can also be transmitted by intimate sexual contact with the exchange of body fluids. Both of these methods refer to the exchange of blood or semen.

The AIDS virus, HTLV-III (Human T-Cell Lymphotropic Virus, Type III) is not transmitted by shaking hands with an infected person, by touching door-knobs, nor by touching toilet seats. There have been no cases proven to have been transmitted by saliva (coughing, sneezing).

Some people believe that a blood test should be used to indicate who has AIDS. There is a test for HTLV-III, but unfortunately, the results are not always correct.

A positive test should indicate that the person has been exposed to the virus. Of those exposed, 75% will have no symptoms and will not develop the disease. 25% will develop ARC (AIDS Related Complex). ARC is a condition with similar symptoms to AIDS, but without the severe or life threatening illnesses. (ARC can be, but is not necessarily a precursor to AIDS.) Of those infected with HTLV-III, 5-10% will develop AIDS.

The HTLV-III test is not recommended for general screening. Repeated tests are needed for any hopes of accuracy, and since results can be misunderstood, counseling is necessary for anyone taking the test.

The University of Bridgeport Counseling Center will continue its "SPEAKING OF..." series for Spring semester 1986. "SPEAKING OF..." is a monthly series of structured educational, informational and workshop strategies designed to address pertinent topics of interest to UB students. Since September of 1985, the Counseling Center has presented handbills, group meetings/workshops and videotapes to explore and develop such topics as assertiveness, goal-setting, eating disorders and stress management. Starting this Spring, "SPEAKING OF..." will address family issues, suicide and lifestyle satisfaction.

To promote student awareness and participation in all aspects of "SPEAKING OF..." different colored handbills are widely distributed at the beginning of each month. Each handbill provides introductory topical information presented in varied formats to elicit interest, increase awareness and identify resources. Key to the concept of the "SPEAKING

OF..." series is the designation of three options for more information. Each month's handbill names (1) a specific date and time of a workshop offering on that particular topic, (2) the Counseling Center phone number to make an appointment and (3) times and days of walk-in services available at the Counseling Center. All workshops will address and expand on the topics noted using a variety of structured and non-structured activities.

The Spring 1986 schedule of the "SPEAKING OF..." series is as follows:

MONTH	TITLE	DESCRIPTION	WORKSHOP DATE
February	Your Family Map	Strategies for understanding family connections and issues.	Friday, 2/14/86 1:30-3:00 p.m. Counseling Center
March	Suicide	Guide to questions, answers and issues related to suicide.	Friday, 3/21/86 1:30-3:00 p.m. Counseling Center
April	Lifestyle-Satisfaction	Personal inventory on lifestyle choices.	Friday, 4/11/86 1:30-3:00 p.m. Counseling Center

For more information about this series or other Counseling Center programs and services, call X4454 or drop by the Counseling Center at 85 Park Avenue during walk-in hours Mondays, Tuesdays and Wednesdays 1:00-3:00 p.m.

INSIDE THE I.F.S.C.

by Grey Josephson
V.P. I.F.S.C.

As a student at U.B. you may hear the I.F.S.C. mentioned in connection with something on campus, such as a pub night or even a service event like the Arbor Day clean up project. What exactly is the I.F.S.C.?

The I.F.S.C. is the Inter-Fraternity/Sorority Council. It is basically a regulatory council over the Fraternities/Sororities; however it has many other purposes on campus and it is growing and getting stronger each semester. It presently consists of two Sororities (Omega Phi Alpha and Theta Epsilon) and three Fraternities (Nu Sigma Epsilon, Tau Kappa Epsilon, and Upsilon Beta Sigma).

Each of the organizations offers similar benefits to students. There are many things for members to get involved with ranging from helping with "Christmas for Tots," to playing softball and enjoying a BBQ afterward.

The I.F.S.C. has a seat on Student Council and has been active in helping Council with its events. Many people, however, still have an outdated idea of what a Fraternity or Sorority is all about. The basic reason these organizations exist is to promote strong and long lasting relationships. These organizations also give students more reasons to stay on campus, instead of going home on weekends.

For many of the students to pledge and stay in a Fraternity/Sorority, the individual organizations offer study time during pledging. This has been done now more than ever, because first semester Freshmen are allowed to join Fraternities/Sororities. A member must maintain a 2.0 to pledge or stay in a Fraternity/Sorority. One is sure to find a member in his or her major who could offer some academic help.

Long term goals of the I.F.S.C. include expansion and housing, preferably on campus. An immediate goal is the establishment of a formal Rushing process. Rush is when students meet the members of the I.F.S.C. and decide which Fraternity/Sorority they think they might be interested in joining. During Rushing there is no obligation to join, but non-members get a glimpse of sorority/fraternal life.

After Rush comes Pledging. Pledging (beginning February 3) is when a prospective member has received a bid from one of the groups and decides if he or she wants to join.

A major function of the I.F.S.C. is the Second Annual Valentine's Cotillion on Friday February 14, beginning at 8 p.m. This semi-formal dinner dance is open to the entire U.B. community (in the tradition of the Winter Prelude).

We hope to see you when pledging begins. Greek life is coming alive at U.B. Why don't you be a part of it?

KNIGHTLIFE PACKS PUB

by Anthony P. Causley

Knightlife, the latest and newest innovation in campus entertainment, was definitely an overwhelming success. This is the new non-alcoholic pub on campus, which will take place on every Friday night in the Student Center Cafeteria from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. Entertainment will be supplied by either a live band, a comedian, or a D.J. The focal point of the event is to prove that people can have a good time without drinking. The success of this Friday night's past event was an evident attestation to that fact. The night was very festive and enjoyable. Both portions of the live entertainment were excellent. But the comedian had to be the biggest draw of all as well as the hit of the show.

Steve Rizzo was humor personified. His routine, both refreshing and original, showed that variation is sorely lacked by several of today's comic personalities. Rizzo was a well of versatility and talent. In addition to this, Rizzo showed a great deal of the much needed commodities of showmanship and flexibility. His act proves to be adaptable to almost any audience. He pulled from his bag of tricks many of our childhood friends such as Snagglepuss, Deputy Dog, Popeye, Yogie, Boo Boo, and Mr. Magoo, just to name a few. He also did excellent mimics of Christopher Lloyd and Jack Nicholson. His talent for voices was truly amazing. It rivals that of greats, such as George Kirby, Eddie Murphy, and Rich Little. His satires of the irritating person at the drive-in window of many fast food restaurants were extremely hilarious. His portrayals of Jack Nicholson as Mr. Rogers and Mr. Whipple were the best I had ever seen. Rizzo also has a very good voice. Its quality surpasses that of several of the bands we have had on campus that I have had the displeasure of hearing. Rizzo's charms, his rapport with the audience, and his showmanship, will definitely make him a star of the future.

The band was Roseanna, and they were hot. They were almost great. The only thing that held them back was the mynah bird syndrome: a weakness that seems to plague the new bands of today. The bands fail to have an original sound and allow mimicry to destroy their sound. If the band's original sound is half as good as the mimicked sounds they produced, they will be awesome in the future. The band exuded personality and talent. They constantly teased the crowd with Van Halen. The female lead was nearly a female clone of David Lee Roth. The irony of the situation was when Van Halen was finally played, it was sung by Andy Witt and Lawrence "Bear" Fleissig. The Cooper Two denizens showered a stunned audience with their great vocal talents. The band exhibited great range and ability varying from Stevie Nicks to Prince. This was by far the best band we have had on campus.

For those of you that chose to abstain from Friday night's activities, you missed a great time and an excellent show.

Coming this Sat. . .

A KNIGHT FOR THE LADIES

by Teresa Davenport

Just imagine a dark, hot, steamy room filled with anxious, demanding women, screaming, begging for men!! If you can imagine that, well then you've probably witnessed, or became one of those wild women who attended U.B.'s LADIES KNIGHT - "MR. U.B. CONTEST" last Saturday night in the Carriage House.

The "CHIPPENDALE" like event consisted of four categories which rated each of the eleven participants in Evening Wear, Casual Wear, Sports Wear, and a swimsuit competition. The contestants were judged by the student council on originality, style, appearance, and personality. The first place winner of the $25.00 prize was RJ Nickerson (as Jim McMahon); The second place winner of a hot popcorn popper was Curt Lindenburg (as the lonely boy from bean town with blue balls); The third place winner of an album of choice was Gregg Smiley (as Big Bad Bill); and an honorable mention went to the mysterious man who came as President Leland Miles.

It was everyone's opinion that all the participants were winners in their own right for their outrageous antics which involved, entertained, and taunted the audience. The Freshman Class President Ray Walters (who also participated in the contest) and his council felt the event was a total success! The fantastic lighting job (done by Scott Johnson, and DJ Brian Geidt) and the large turn-out of students give them ideas for many future projects, which may include - Guys look out - A "MS. U.B. CONTEST" in the near future!

LET'S TALK WINE

by Jonathan Sloan

Whats the best year for a red Bordeaux, or an Italian Chianti? Whats the proper temperature to serve wine or Champagne at?

The time has come for you to stop asking, and start reading. The most famous wines come from France, particularly the Bordeaux region. Two famous regions of France are the Burgundy region and the everpopular Champagne region. Apart from France Italy is very popular with its Chiantis, Valociellas, Soavas and the number one Italian wine Riunite. California has a strong showing as far as wines go. They are on the sweeter side as compared to the wines of France. California is know for its Zinfandels, Cabernet Sauvignon, Rhine, and Chablis just to name a few.

With all the different types of wine you might want to know Which is the best. For the past 125 years, every year, wines get a vintage rating. the rating scale is on a scale from 1 to 10, with 10 being the best. For instance, the year 1975 was a 1$0 for Red Bordeauxs as well as the year 1982. From the year 1974 inclusive there has not been a rating of a 10 for a white Bordeaux, but the year 1983 comes close with a rating of a solid 9. Any white Bordeaux before 1974 is probably to jold to drink.

As far as Burgundys go, by far the best year was 1976. White Burgundies (yes there is such a thing) have not been very good since 1974, the highest comes at a 9 in 1978.

Do not forget, a vintage rating is just a general idea to a wines quality as tasted by experts, of course opinions vary as well as taste.

Champagne now on the other hand has had very few vintage years, (except for 1982) no matter how the weather is, it is based entirely on the vintager. One of the most famous being Moet & Chadon. Moet has always been regarded as one of Europes best, afterall, it is Moet who makes Dom Perignon.

Well now you know what to look for in a wine you should know how to serve it. First red wine should be served at about 62 degrees but not above 70. Some red wines that are young, fruity and crisp maybe enjoyed more if a little cooler. White wine, Rose wines, Champagnes and Sparkling Wines are all in the same catagories, serve them at about 42 to 48 or about 2 hours in the refrigerator. Last but not least how much to buy. Table wines and Champagne for dinner occasion, a safe yardstick is about 8 to 10 oz per person or about 5 to 6 glasses per bottle.

by Randy Wanser

Aside from my Editorship with the Scribe, I also wear the hat of Student Concert's Co-Chairman. To keep you informed on the prsperspective concert scene at U.B., below is a patial, and although probable, still yet unconfirmed calendar for the semester: February 23 the gym will be equipped with a full-size ring as Pro Wrestling makes its debut on campus. Twenty live matches will be scheduled and televised, featuring top name wrestler, and including women and midget matches. Saturday, March 1, has been reserved for the only area appearance of the Rock/Punk band the Alarm, highlighting Residence Halls Association's Winter Weekend activities. The tradition of Spring week will be fulfilled as the week begins with current Pop band ABC in concert, and finishes with a dance concert hosted by Otis Day and the Knights, or the Del Feugos. As I have mentioned, the dotted lines are not yet signed, but we hope to connect soon.

Major: General Studies

Friday night, while I enjoyed the company of two friends JoAnne, Editor of the Scribe, and Andy, Seeley R.A. and Student Council Treasurer, our palates delighted in a tasty feast furnished to all patrons of Europa Restaurant. Europa's wide assortment of delectable dishes and the friendly attitude of Dimos and Nick satisfy both the heart and the soul. Each dish seems designed to wholly satisfy the customer's appetite.

The Breakfasts offer egg sandwiches, omelets served with their famous homefries, pancakes, french toast, and a large selection of side orders. The menu for the rest of the day includes Deli Sandwiches, hot grinders, hot sandwiches, Greek specialties, Italian dinners, pizza, greens and other salads and well as savory deserts including Baklava and triple chocolate cheese cake. Some unique dishes include gyro pizza and kelabasa grinders.

Europa is famous for their gyro, receiving an award from the Advocate for the best gyro in the county. The delicious gyro which was our selection is lamb and beef served on pita bread with lettuce, tomatoes, onion and tangy cucumber sauce. The meat is constantly being cooked on a rotisserie which makes the meat crispier and cultivates marvelous taste. Their other Greek dishes, including soulaki, spanakopita, and baklava, are also masterfully prepared. However, their menu does not include plain-flavored jello.

To get to Europa from U.B. take I-95 south to exit 23 (route 1) and it is located directly after Stop & Shop, across from Carvel. A bright red neon light reading 'open' is in their window. Also, Europa is moderately priced in the college students range.

Finally, read the styrofoam cup by the cash register and Bon Appetite!

So What's In A Name?

by Steve Kavanagh

Americans seem to be fascinated by famous people as evidenced by the existence of such enlightening and intellectually stimulating publications as the National Enquirer and People Magazine and television programs along the lines of an Entertainment Tonight.

The Smiths want to know what the Joneses had for breakfast and what clothes they wear, what cars they drive, who they sleep with, who their dog sleeps with and how much money they make.

The inquisitive minds of college students here at the University of Bridgeport are no different from those of surfers in Hawaii or hog farmers like Billy Ray Bob and Billie Jean Jo Bob from Alabama. They want to know!

Lucky for us there are a whole slew of famous people right here at UB. Or at least they are related to someone famous - or they might be.

Of course I'm sick and tired of Johnbrotherofbasketballstar and RaycousinoofYankeemanager. They get all the ink while other relatives of famous people go unnoticed.

Why if I didn't know better I'd testify in court that basketball player Rich Barnes was the twin brother of former National Basketball Association star Marvin "Bad News" Barnes. At one time I thought Rich might be related to Dallas Cowboy defensive back Benny Barnes but that thought disintegrated when I compared their jumping ability.

Another hoopster, Clarence Gordon, bears a striking resemblance to Commissioner Gordon of Batman fame. I also wonder if he was related to the late Ruth Gordon, The Oscar and Emmy Award winning actress who starred in Arthur and some Clint Eastwood movies. Los Angeles Clipper star Lancaster Gordon has repeatedly denied even knowing Clarence.

Teammate Frank Brown and lady cagers Heather and Whitney Brown (no relation) must be related to someone famous. Perhaps NBA sharp-shooter "Downtown" Freddie Brown or football great Jim Brown or Cleveland Brown's owner Paul Brown or maybe the brother/sister combo of Charlie and Sally Brown and their cousin Peppermint Pattie.

Another Purple Knight dribbler, co-captain John O'Reilly ranks up there with Corporal Walter "Radar" O'Reilly and former Boston Bruin captain Terry O'Reilly "Oh really?" you wonder. No O'Reilly.

Could it be that hoop star Norman Taylor is a descendant of former President Zachary Taylor? Or maybe he is related to New York Giant linebacker Lawrence Taylor. Hopefully Norman will perform better in the playoffs than Lawrence did.

A lot of people who are not diehard sports fans have confused UB women's basketball coach Don Foust with former Notre Dame (now Akron) football coach Gerry Faust. If the Lady Knights disappoint their fans this season will they mount an "oust Foust" campaign?

Speaking of coaches, is it possible that soccer and baseball coach Fran Bacon could be an ancestor of Sir Francis Bacon, the English statesman and philosopher.

Senior Brian Butler, a UB soccer and baseball player, has reportedly claimed to be kin to Chicago Bears placekicker Kevin Butler now that the Bears have secured the NFL championship.

Are gymnast Jennifer Stanley and Paul Stanley of the rock group KISS any relation? Some say Jennifer is from the same family as Boston Red Sox pitcher Bob Stanley.

Scribe trivia columnist Steve Cook might share some genes with sports prognosticator Beano Cook. It is a well documented fact that both of these men predicted early in the season that Oklahoma and Penn State would play for the NCAA football championship on New Year's Day.

Now fasten your seat belts and get a grip on yourself because this next revelation may come as a shock to you - although it shouldn't.

A knowledgeable source has confirmed that UB sports information director George Albano is actually the twin brother of World Wrestling Federation mentor Captain Louis Albano. Through a quirk of fate the two were separated at birth.

Impossible you say? Well how do you explain the fact that when George is spotted by the fans at Purple Knight basketball games the confused crowd begins to chant "Captain Lou, Captain Lou, Captain Lou!"

The striking physical resemblance and the identical wardrobes of these two celebrities can only add fuel to the fire that Lou and George are indeed brothers.

Look for a comprehensive listing of people at UB who are not related to anyone famous in next week's Scribe. And until then let me remind you - never shake hands with someone who has just come out of the men's room.

Coach Don Foust, co-captains Bonnie Richards and Whitney Brown, and sophomore Chris Reinholz can only wring their hands as they watch the Lady Knights drop last Saturday's game vs. New Haven

KING COOK'S TRIVIA

by Steve Cook

Too often people get caught up in the rigors of everyday life and the chase of the American Dream.

Sometimes people should just stop for a moment and reflect on the little things in life that we so often take for granted.

The ability to see, hear, feel and smell are wonderful gifts bestowed upon us yet we don't always appreciate these abilities. But tell me, where would we be without them?

For instance, if we could not smell how would we know that there are only two things in the world that smell like fish?

About three months - uh, no it was yesterday, I began thinking of all the pleasant sounds I have become accustomed to hearing.

Among them are the following: "Yes your highness, a cool drink and your newspaper, right away sir"; "Your awesomeness, how might I increase the enjoyment of your existence on Earth."; "Sir, who would you like me to invite to the palace for this afternoon's hot tub session, the Dallas Cowboy cheerleaders or Playboy's Girls of the Big 10?"; "Your highness, this evenings dinner choices are either lobster, fed to you by Rebecca Del Mor-nay, or filet mignon, fed to you by Heather Locklear." (As I recall I had quite an appetite that evening and I sampled both of them); "King Cook you have stumped me again. You are a genius!"

Other sounds which I enjoy:

the sound of the water from my jacuzzi splashing gently on Cheryl Tiegs; the anguished moans of a defeated competitor; the chattering of an opponents teeth who is about to compete with me; and the din of excited voices and shuffling feet as people gather just to catch a glimpse of me.

When you attempt to answer the following questions you will understand why I command such respect world wide.

THIS WEEK'S QUESTION:

- 1) Who holds the Super Bowl record for most receptions?
- 2) In 1985 the United States lost the Ryder Cup to the European team. When was the last time the U.S. lost this team golf championship?
- 3) Who did the Red Sox get from the Yankees in the Sparky Lyle trade?
- 4) The Cincinnati Reds had five players on their roster in 1985 who have over 2,000 career hits. Can you name them?

LAST WEEK'S ANSWERS

- 1) Chris Ford of the Boston Celtics scored the NBA's first three-point field goal Oct. 12, 1979, versus the Houston Rockets.
- 2) Randy "Macho Man" Savage once played in the St. Louis Cardinals chain under his real name, Randy Poffo. Savage was a catcher who boasted two career home runs for Orangeburg of the W. Carolina League. The "Macho Man" also knocked in 14 runs for Sarasota of the Gulf Coast League. But how many times has he touched all the bases with the lovely Elizabeth?
- 3) Phil Exposito and Johnny Bucyk are the two Bruins ahead of Mike Bossy on the career goal scoring list.
- 4) Chicago Bear linebacker Mike Singletary attended Baylor University.

Sayanora chumps!

Correction: Last week's Scribe incorrectly reported that Clarence Gordon, pictured here going to the basket against New Haven last week did not make the Banker's Classic All-Star Team. C-Man did make the team.

John Mullin Out for Season; Will Join O'Reilly On Sidelines

by Tim Hurley

It has been a strange winter to say the least this year in Bridgeport. It seems that it has been raining quite a bit on the UB campus, particularly on the Harvey Hubbell Gymnasium, where a dark ominous cloud appears to be lingering.

First 7'7" center Manute Bol left the team in favor of the NBA. Next, stellar point guard John O'Reilly broke his ankle in the team's annual Purple-White game while the team's other co-captain, Clarence Gordon, was nursing an injured hand.

Now, as if head coach Bruce Webster doesn't have enough to worry about, sophomore forward John Mullin has been sidelined with a ruptured appendix and it now looks as if he, like his 1984-85 backcourt mate, O'Reilly, will be lost for the remainder of the season.

Mullin, who this season had been moved to forward and was averaging 13.6 points per game, sat out the Purple Knights' 84-80 defeat to New Hampshire College on Sunday, January 19, after he complained of an upset stomach. Mullin reportedly doubled over in pain in the UB locker room prior to the contest with the Penmen, but thought it was merely the beginning of a virus.

The next day, as the Mullin family was planning a party for brother Chris, who was making his first appearance in New York as a member of the NBA's Golden State Warriors, John called home and complained of dizziness and stomach pains.

Mullin's sister Cathy, a nurse at Long Island College Hospital, picked him up and brought him back to Brooklyn late that afternoon. Mullin was then admitted to LI College Hospital and underwent surgery to remove his appendix at 3:45 a.m. Tuesday after his blood pressure dropped to a dangerously low level.

Mullin has since remained in the hospital and is listed in stable condition. Mullin could possibly be sent home some time this week.

PURPLE KNIGHTS DROP A PAIR

HOOP TEAM FALLS TO 2-3 IN CONFERENCE PLAY

by Tim Hurley

Last night the UB Purple Knights (8-9, 2-3) hosted the hapless Southern Connecticut Owls and Bruce Webster's combine was looking to snap a three-game losing skein and get back to the .500 mark.

Bridgeport dropped a pair of NECC contests during the past week, falling to arch-rival Sacred Heart, 93-80, on the road at the SHU Box, and New Haven, 78-64, at the Harvey Hubbell Gymnasium.

Dave Bike's Pioneers made it two straight over Bridgeport over the last two years and they did it with a balanced attack which was led by Keith Johnson, who threw in 23 points to lead all scorers. All-American guard Roger Younger, who followed with 20 points, was simply unconscious from the outside, where he hit on 10-of-13 attempts.

Norman Taylor, who is rapidly establishing himself as one of the best players in the league and last week was named the NECC Player of the Week, led UB with 22 points. Taylor had twelve points at intermission, but in the second half, Sacred Heart began collapsing on the 6'7" sophomore and allowed him only to get off five shots in the final 20 minutes, all of which he sank.

Footy Brown followed with 18 points and Gerald Joseph, starting in place of John Mullin, added 12.

New Haven, presently unbeaten in league play (4-0 and 11-5 overall), jumped out to a big 38-22 halftime advantage and held off a fierce Bridgeport rally to record its first win at the Hub since 1981.

The Purple Knights had serious trouble handling the Charger press and committed 13 first-half turnovers, which allowed UNH to build a big cushion.

In the early stages of the second half, the Knights went on a 26-10 tear to even the score at 48, but they were outscored 27-16 over the final 13 minutes as UNH took advantage over UB's lack of depth and foul troubles to win going away.

Joseph had a career-high 24 points for Bridgeport, while Taylor had 14 points and 13 rebounds before fouling out. Brown contributed nine points and eight assists and Emile Sella tossed in eight markers in a losing cause.

HALL OF FAME

Tickets for the University of Bridgeport Athletic Hall of Fame Dinner Feb. 8 at the duPont Tower Room are now available through the Athletic Department (x4735). Tickets for the dinner are $15 each.

Gus Seaman, a former standout basketball player at UB and currently the school's director of purchasing, will be among this year's inductees. Also being honored are former UB soccer coach John McKeon and former Purple Knight athletes Darrick Warner (football), Roger Curylo (soccer) and the late Sandra Weed Austin (female sports).
